FIRE DESTROYS CRITES FACTORY AT NEWMAN, ILL.

Flames Spread From Grass Blaze To Structure Valued At $75,000

PACK OF CORN DELAYED

Crop From 1,200 Acres To Be Processed At Tuscola

The Newman, Ill., canning plant of the Crites Milling Co., was destroyed by fire early Monday at a loss estimated by H. M. Crites at $75,000.

Mr. Crites left for Newman at noon Monday. He was told that sparks from a train ignited grass beside the plant and the grass fire spread to the building. No one was in the plant at the time of the blaze, Mr. Crites said, and it had gained such headway when discovered that it was impossible for firemen to save the plant.

The plant has two complete fast canning lines. The buildings, Mr. Crites said, were about 400 feet long and ranged from 60 to 80 feet in width.

Arrangements were being made to start the plant Monday on the corn pack. Mr. Crites said the firm has about 1,200 acres of land in corn in the Newman district this year. The corn will be packed at the Tuscola, Ill., plant about 17 miles from Newman.

George Crites, son of H. M. Crites, went to Newman last Friday to make arrangements to start the plant.

Mr. Crites said the plant is partly covered by insurance.

TELEVISION MAY HAVE IMPORTANT PLACE IN NEXT MAJOR WARFARE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15—(UP)—Army technical experts are studying the military possibilities of television. They are convinced that a moving picture version of an enemy's movements hundreds of miles away is a possibility in the near future.

Such a development would enable the general staffs, remaining far behind the lines, to revise plans and issue new orders instantaneously, thus checking surprise moves by the enemy.

Nature of the experiments and the stage of development are closely guarded secrets. But military experts revealed that with the present day development of television it is possible to install a transmitting set in an airplane and send frequent picture flashes back to headquarters many miles distant. Stepping up the speed of this process, they said, would enable a full moving picture account, transmitted from the plane to a screen at headquarters by radio.

Tokyo's Men Take British Flag From Tug; Vigorous Protest Voiced

SHANGHAI, Aug. 15—(UP)—Tension between the Japanese military command and foreign authorities increased today and some quarters expressed fears that the Japanese might attempt to occupy the International Settlement.

The anger of British authorities was aroused when Japanese soldiers lowered the British flag and hoisted the Japanese one on the Yangtze river off Kiangyin.

Eight Japanese soldiers took over the vessel. British and Japanese naval authorities began negotiating after a vigorous British protest.

Foreign military officials held a long conference at which it was understood they discussed a plan to place permanent semi-military control over all unoccupied areas of the settlement.

German Minority Party May Press New Demands For Concessions

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 15—(UP)—Acute anxiety over Germany's gigantic army maneuvers was plainly apparent today. It was reflected in a stiffening of the government's attitude on the minorities problem and by forecasts that important decisions would be taken at a meeting of the national defense council tomorrow.

There was a disposition in most other capitals to minimize the significance of the war games which started at dawn today. But not here.

For one thing, the opinion was expressed that the maneuvers might strengthen the Sudeten German minority party in its demands for concessions and particularly that they might induce Viscount Runciman, British "advisor" in the minorities problem, to urge further concessions by the government. For another, people did not welcome the presence of large bodies of troops near Czechoslovakia.

Quarters close to the ministry of interior intimated that Premier Hodza was prepared to stand firm if the Sudeten German party attempted to utilize Germany's "show of strength" to obtain maximum strength in the minority problem.

Leaders of the six coalition parties on which the government depends for support were emphatic in their demands that the cabinet resist any pressure from any source.

Executives of the Sudeten German party told the United Press they did not intend to link any happenings in Germany with the minority negotiations. At the same time they said they would not consent to negotiate with (Continued on Page Eight)

FORD DECLARES NATIONAL LABOR RULING UNFAIR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15—(UP)—The Ford Motor Co. asserted today that its constitutional rights had been violated in a National Labor Relations board hearing at St. Louis.

The assertion was made in a bill of exceptions on the basis of which Ford asked the board to overrule a trial examiner's report holding that the company had violated the labor act.

The bill contained 573 exceptions to Trial Examiner Tilford E. Dudley's intermediate report and requested another 60 days to prepare a brief and present oral arguments in the case.

Dudley had ordered the Ford company to reinstate 192 workers, 96 of them with back pay, and to place another 57 workers on a preferential employment list at the company's St. Louis plant.

LEOPOLD INTERVIEWED, BUT NOT ABOUT GARBO

NEW YORK, Aug. 15—(UP)—Leopold Stokowski, orchestra conductor, had to sit on a pillow on the floor of his liner Normandie stateroom today because interviewers, anxious to learn whether he had married Greta Garbo, took all the chairs.

Some 30 persons crowded into the stateroom and at least 50 others waited outside while Stokowski repeatedly refused to discuss his "personal affairs."

The conductor and Miss Garbo were frequently together while abroad in the last few months.

CONDOR CRASH FATAL TO NINE

German Liner Hits Water From 1,500 Feet At Rio De Janeiro

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 15—The German Condor air-liner Anhang, crashed in Guanabara bay today killing five passengers, one a woman, and four members of the crew.

The liner struck one of the treacherous currents which swirl over the mountain-rimmed harbor. The plane went out of control at 1,500 feet. As the pilot attempted a bank, the big ship went into a dive and crashed into the water.

The plane was piloted by Joao Unpukina. Brazilian law requires a Brazilian crew over this part of the air line which runs from Germany, South across the Atlantic, through Brazil and Argentina to Chile.

The ship had just taken off northbound for Victoria, Brazil. As the pilot attempted to gain altitude it went out of control. It crashed near Governador Island in the bay directly opposite the main docks of Rio De Janeiro.

Passenger casualties were Milton Silva, Alberta Schelle, Maria Ferraz, Anysio Cunharego and Carlos Prado. Other members of the crew killed besides the pilot were Luis Cottelli, mechanic; Jao Poscini, radio operator, and Miguel Stummacher, steward.

FEDERAL MEN FIND $600,000 IN OPIUM CACHE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15—(UP)—The treasury today announced its agents had just seized $600,000 worth of opium in Brooklyn, N. Y. Elmer Lincoln Irey, treasury enforcement coordinator, said it represented the largest seizure in the last decade.

The seizure was made aboard an old junk boat tied up at a steamship pier.

Irey was advised that Customs Agents William Walker and John F. Kirschhoff observed the junk on the opposite side of the pier from the British steamship Glaucon, which had been under surveillance for several days. The officers discovered a grappling hook hanging from the junk boat.

Pulling it up, the agents found 21 packages wrapped in burlap attached to it. The burlap was saturated with fuel oil and the packages contained hermetically sealed metal cans, each containing 10 five-tael cans of opium.

G-MEN HUNTING TWO ABDUCTORS

Meredith, Couch Named As Kidnapers Of Socialite And Escort

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 15—(UP)—G-men ordered an intensive search in four states today for Otis James Meredith and John Couch, southwest desperadoes, believed to have been the men who abducted Peggy Gross, 23, St. Louis socialite, and Daniel Cox Fahey, Jr., 31, her escort, and released them unharmed near Minneapolis, Sunday.

Miss Gross and Fahey, an architect, were seized at St. Louis Saturday night while parked near her home. Their abductors took possession of Fahey's automobile and, with the couple in the back seat, started North.

They told Fahey they had abducted him and Miss Gross to prevent them from making a report on the theft of the automobile.

TWO STATE AREA WARNED STORM MAY DO DAMAGE

LAKE CHARLES, La., Aug. 15—(UP)—The U. S. weather bureau today warned coastal city residents of Louisiana and Texas that rain squalls and high winds likely would follow the hurricane which blew itself out in the Lake Charles area last night.

The weather bureau said the wind and rain would be local and probably would not be serious, but fishing craft were instructed that to go to sea within the next few hours would be dangerous.

The hurricane that swept toward the Louisiana and Texas coasts last night provoked the gravest warnings from the weather bureau. Storm signals were posted from Bolivar Point, Tex., to Morgan City, La. Residents began a general exodus from their homes, seeking safety in storm cellars, civic buildings and at cities far inland from danger points.

The hurricane did not reach the intensity expected when it hit the coast. It inflicted mild damage in this area, breaking window panes, littering the streets with debris and overturning small fishing boats. Observers estimated velocity of the wind at 50 miles an hour.

Fight Over Possession Of Child Sends Couple To Court For Hearings

A dispute over possession of a 16 month old boy, today, had resulted in his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Neal, of Cincinnati, being attacked and Mr. and Mrs. Orley Schwalbach, of Whisler, paying fines of $25 and costs each on assault and battery charges. Their hearings were before Mayor W. B. Cady Saturday night, after a fight in front of the courthouse. Screams of the two women involved in the fight drew police and a large crowd of spectators to the scene.

Little Kenneth Neal, center of the trouble, was back in Cincinnati, Monday, with his parents following the altercation that came after a series of juvenile court orders and attempts of the office of Sheriff Charles Radcliff to return the child to his parents.

The trouble dates back over a year. Shortly after birth of the baby Mrs. Neal became ill and was unable to care for him properly. He was taken by Mr. and Mrs. Schwalbach, the latter being Mrs. Neal's sister. Just a year ago the Neals told Probate Judge C. C.

Young that they were not able to regain the baby, the Schwalbachs refusing to give him up. A court order was issued at that time and Deputy Sheriff R. E. Armstrong and Juvenile Officer Frank Goff went with Mr. Neal to the Schwalbach home. The officers said they encountered trouble at that time, the Whisler residents arguing against the surrender. When the Schwalbachs were talking with the officers Mr. Neal entered the home, took the child and drove away. Mrs. Schwalbach followed Neal in their car, but damaged her automobile in her haste. She did not catch up with the Cincinnati's automobile and Mr. Neal took the baby home.

Willis Wittich, 85, retired lieutenant colonel in the U. S. army, died of complications at 1 a. m. Monday at his home, 313 S. Court street.

Mr. Wittich had been in poor health for three months. He was born in Circleville on Feb. 21, 1853, son of G. F. and Henrietta Wittich. He served in the 21st infantry in the Spanish-American war. Mr. Wittich was in the army from 1874 until 1902. His retirement followed an attack of tropical fever when serving in the Philippines.

Mr. Wittich was graduated from West Point military academy in the class of 1874.

His wife, Lillian Means Wittich, died in 1913. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Elia Means and Mrs. Rose Gamble, and two brothers, Frank and Edward Wittich, Circleville.

Funeral services will be held at the home Wednesday with the Rev. Robert T. Kelsey officiating. The time of the services has not been determined. Services at the grave in Forest cemetery will be private. Friends are asked to omit flowers. They may call at the home.

Pallbearers will be G. P. Foreman, E. S. Neuding, F. R. Nicholas, Fred Wittich, Charles May and O. S. Howard. Burial will be in charge of the Mader funeral service.

SEVERAL ESCAPE HURTS IN TWO AUTO CRASHES

Two auto accidents in which no one was hurt were investigated by the sheriff's department Sunday night.

Front end of an auto driven by Edwin Frazier, Williamsport, was damaged when it struck a tree about four miles east of Circleville. The car caught fire but the blaze was put out quickly. The sheriff's department said Frazier apparently was crowded into a tree when another autoist failed to signal when turning to the left. The accident was reported at 7:30 p. m.

Cars driven by David Runkle, Ashville Route 2, and William Snyder, Chillicothe, were damaged in a mishap on Route 23 about two miles South of Circleville about 11 p. m. Officers said the auto driven by Runkle collided with the rear of the car operated by Snyder.

ADMIRAL URGES U. S. TO BUILD GREAT DEFENSE

ASHLAND, Wis., Aug. 15.—(UP)—Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of United States naval operations, said last night that there is only one course open to the United States to promote international peace—"a military preparedness adequate to the world situation as it is."

"Efforts of the United States to promote peace by treaties and by example have failed repeatedly," he said. "The belief that treaties will protect us against international brigandage is a dream of visionaries."

"Naval reductions after 1922 cost the country $277,695,000 and had no useful result."

He spoke at the convention of the Wisconsin department of the American Legion.

Witness Says U. S. Nazis Build Spy System

TESTIFYING in Washington before a special house committee investigating "un-American activities" in the United States, John C. Metcalfe, undercover agent, charges that the Nazi movement in the United States aims to set up a "vast spy network" and "powerful sabotage machine" for in case of war. Quizzed by Representative Martin Dies of Texas, chairman of the committee, Metcalfe, a native of Germany who came to this country in 1914, told of joining the German-

American Bund under a German name and later became a trusted lieutenant of Fritz Kuhn, national Bund leader referred to as the "American Hitler". Metcalfe said he estimated that "at least a half million persons in this country" are members, supporters or sympathizers with the Nazi movement. The witness said that "at least 90 percent of the German-Americans in the United States are opposed to the activities" of Nazi supporters. Metcalfe, left, and Dies look at a photo of Bund drilling.

FARM NEWS

Brief Items of Interest to Pickaway Farmers

Immediate profits and future soil productivity upon large areas of Ohio farm lands depend on applications of some form of lime.

Summer silage should not be considered a substitute for pasture in Ohio but should be used as a supplement. This applies even when the silage was made from grass.

Clyde Stizlein, Knox county farmer, says strip cropping is successful now as an erosion control measure the same as it was 12 years ago when he began the practice as a cure for gullies and bald spots. He has about 100 acres laid out in strips and uses a rotation of corn, wheat, and two years of meadow.

Fifty-three dairy herd improvement associations were operating in Ohio at the time of the last monthly report. Only 37 associations completed a year of testing in 1937. Members still are culling unprofitable cows and replacing these boarders with purebreds or high class grades. They also bought 27 purebred bulls last month.

People in the United States are decreasing the amount of wheat they consume. For 25 years preceding 1920, the total annual per capita consumption was 6.2 bushels. Since 1920, average consumption has decreased to 5.4 bushels per person. However, increases in population have partially counteracted the effect of people shifting to other foods.

Summaries of farm account records for 20 Delaware and Marion county farms show that essential differences in livestock management accounted for some of the variation in income. The 10 high farms sold $11 more products from each cow, raised 2.3 more pigs from each sow, sold 25 more eggs from each hen, raised 39 more lambs from each 100 ewes, and realized 52 cents more from each dollar's worth of feed market through livestock.

Peanuts, tobacco, and cotton now are raised at the George Washington National Monument, Virginia.

Pack Of Sweet Corn On In Earnest This Week

By S. D. FRIDLEY
Phone Ashville 79

The sweet corn pack will be on in earnest and all hands at it, at the cannery this week. Prospects for a heavy crop are in sight and the Weather Man sure has been on his good behavior this season. The early variety Golden Bantam is in and out of the way.

Julius Kaiserman, son of J. M. and Mrs. Kaiserman, spent over Saturday night here at the old home. He is a resident of Cleveland where he is one of the sales force of a large wholesale tobacco firm. The wife and son were not with him. Came down to bring mother home who had been visiting with them for a time.

Back to Bill Curry's numerous egg-laying hen again, with an egg production of 30 eggs in 33 days. Suspecting that something was wrong and not normal in this egg laying stunt of Bill's, we made an investigation for ourselves, putting Bill "on the carpet" about how it was possible to do such a thing with just an ordinary old hen. In the first place, she is an Ashville hen, he told us, and second, she gets plenty of that good Madison township sweet corn fresh on the cob, picks it off her self. A kindly disposed old rooster seems to supervise things about the place and acts proud of his mate.

If you are expecting to be in on roast and fried chicken Wednesday, pay attention to directions. Have your dressed chicken for the Lutheran Brotherhood roast out at the Ashville park by 10 o'clock a. m. on this day. And at the M. E. church basement there will be plenty of chicken with all the trimmings ready and waiting for you at 5 o'clock p. m. And if you don't get all the chicken you can eat on this coming Wednesday, it's no fault of ours, we've given you the necessary directions.

Both the village council and the Ashville-Harrison school board, will be in session this evening. At last accounts in the teacher hiring, there was a vacancy in the high school staff.

Reid and Rhinesmith have a sizable job of painting at Groveport. One of the old dwellings of the village is being rebuilt and modernized throughout and these named painters have work there to last them for some time. All our painters we have contacted are busy with plenty of work ahead they say.

Through an error, we quoted Tom Sherman up in Hamilton township, Franklin county territory, as finishing off for the Columbus market, 30 hogs each year as a tenant on a 230 acre corn farm. We intended to say 300 hogs instead of the 30 we named. But we have it corrected now and will try and do better for awhile.

In our contact with many people, quite a few of them are school youngsters, often in the grades. And when we mention to them that "old school" will soon be in session again and that Summer play days will soon be over, the expression upon their faces tell the tale of what they think of it. Some are happy and cheerful with the thought that school days are here again, while others think "old school" is just the right name for it, and sorry they have to get back at it again.

OHIO FARMERS ABLE TO STAY AT LADDER TOP

One of the reasons that Ohio turns up near the top of the agricultural ladder year after year is the diversity of farm enterprises in the state, according to Elwood Davis, county agricultural agent of Morrow county, who illustrates his point by showing differences that exist in his county.

Claude Shelton, Iberia, operates a farm in the northern part of the county and divides his efforts between sheep and potatoes. He says this combination is ideal in splitting labor requirements. Mr. Shelton thinks he has the best prospects for a potato crop that he has had in several years.

A few miles away, Frank Giffin, Mt. Gilead, specializes in the production of apples. He manages 60 acres of orchard and says prospects for a crop are poor. One orchard is expected to yield 30 percent of a crop and the rest even less. However, Mr. Giffin has other farm enterprises that help to carry the load in bad fruit years.

Fred Porter, Marengo, has 50 acres of corn and he explains that dairy cattle are popular in his part of Morrow county. More than a quarter of the agricultural income from the county comes from the dairies. This farmer also is interested in Percheron horses.

County Agent Davis says when you can find successful farmers with such divergent interests in such a small territory, it is good proof that diversified farming is good economics. Farmers who depend on one crop for their year's income may be very prosperous some years but they experience ups and downs that are not known in Morrow county.

FLYING GLASS CUTS AUTOIST ON RURAL ROAD

John W. Timmons, 554 E. Main street, was cut on the lip Saturday when the windshield on his car was broken, either by a stone or bullet.

Mr. Timmons said he was riding along Route 104 near the Westfall road when something struck the windshield of his car. He believes that it was either a stone thrown by a passing car or a bullet, possibly fired by someone shooting groundhogs.

Flying glass struck Timmons.

HYBRIDS SHOW MAJOR GAIN IN OHIO CORN FIELD

State Farmers Increase
Acreage Rapidly, O. S. U.
Expert Shows

FOUR TIMES OVER 1937

Faster Ripening, Resistance
To Adverse Weather
Cited For Growth

Observations in Ohio corn fields lead R. D. Lewis, specialist in agronomy, Ohio State University, to declare that farmers are shifting from open-pollinated varieties of corn to hybrids faster than anyone dared to predict a few years ago.

Mr. Lewis claims that 40 percent of all Ohio corn this year is growing from hybrid seed and that the acreage of hybrid corn now is more than four times larger than last year's plantings in the state. He estimates that 1,100 acres of hybrid corn were grown in Ohio in 1933 and that 1,398,800 acres will be harvested here this year.

There are nearly 100 acres of hybrid now for each one planted in 1935. Such a rapid change in agricultural practices is perhaps unparalleled in the history of the state. Usually changes in farm practices are accepted much more slowly than has been the case with hybrid corn.

However, Mr. Lewis says the rapid increase in acreage is easy to understand when the superiorities of hybrid corn are considered. The chief attraction, of course, is the consistently higher yield from hybrids when compared with open-pollinated varieties. Hybrid corn also ripens more evenly and resists adverse weather conditions better.

With these advantages, Mr. Lewis says farmers are willing to buy seed each year to plant their fields although they have been in the habit of producing their own seed corn. The growing of hybrid seed corn requires more attention and time than many farmers are willing to spend so most of the seed is produced by men who make this enterprise their specialty.

AT THE GRAND

Some of the fire engines, still charred from the original Chicago fire of 1871, take part in the motion picture version of the catastrophe which provides a climactic scene in "In Old Chicago", Darryl F. Zanuck's astounding production now at the Grand theatre. A complete reproduction of the nineteenth century Chicago was built and destroyed by fire to obtain the remarkable reproduction.

While the flames roared skyward on the 110-acre 20th Century-Fox studio lot, modern Los Angeles city fire apparatus and the studio's own completely equipped fire ladders "supervised" the blaze to prevent an actual repetition of the old-timer. This was necessary because more than 1,000 persons and hundreds of head of cattle were practically "on their own" among the blazing buildings. The tense dramatic love story of the mid-West of a bygone era was directed by Henry King, with H. Bruce Humberstone scoring an assist on the fire sequences. "In Old Chicago" co-stars Tyrone Power, Alice Faye and Don Ameche. It was adapted for the screen by Sonya Levien and Lamar Trotti from an original story by Niven Busch.

AT THE CLIFTONA

Lady Peel has gone Hollywood! It's Beatrice Lillie, London's reigning queen of comedy, the girl who proves that fun never sets on the British Empire, and she cavorts in her world-famous madcap manner with Bing Crosby in the new musical, "Doctor Rhythm," which is now showing at the Cliftona Theatre.

In this fast-moving story of the Park Avenue doctor who spends an insane, hectic day in the guise of a policeman, Bea, is seen as the pampered darling of the local bluecoats. When she orders Bing to prevent her niece, Mary Carlisle, from eloping with a notorious gangster, the musical medico finds that crooning has charms that even an officer's uniform lacks.

As the comic chief of a hand-picked cast that includes Andy Divine, Laura Hope Crews, Frank Elliott and Bill Austin, Bea clowns with the unmatched finesse that proves the claims of her fans that she has increased the mirthrate of England many times over. When she sings sitting on a piano, she not only brings down the house but also the piano. In a New York department store scene she buys a "double dozen double-damask dinner-napkins" in the hysterical orgy which has made her name a byword with radio audi-

WYOMING VOTES TUESDAY; G. O. P. SEEKING PLACE

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 15—(UP)—Two Republicans who hope to unseat Wyoming's only member of the house of representatives, will furnish the principal action in tomorrow's primary election. There were no national issues of consequence.

The incumbent, Paul Greever, Democrat, is unopposed. He will face either Alonzo Clark, Republican liberal, or Frank Horton, personal friend of former President Herbert Hoover, in the general election next fall. Because of his liberal leanings, Clark is at odds with the state Republican committee, which drafted Horton as his opponent.

Gov. Leslie A. Miller, is opposed for renomination by Gus Engelking in the Democratic primary. Five candidates are seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination. They are John F. Raper, Thomas A. Nicholas, Sam S. Hoover, Nels Smith and Dr. J. H. Holland.

GIRL, 23, MISSING IN MIRROR LAKE REGION OF UTAH

KAMAS, Utah, Aug. 15—(UP)—Bernice Norville, 23, of Salt Lake City, was missing today in the Lake Mirror region of the Wasatch mountain range, 19,000 feet above sea level.

Forest rangers and Civilian Conservation corps workers were organized into rescue parties. They searched for Miss Norville throughout the night without success.

Miss Norville, member of a fishing party, had said she would follow a difficult trail to South Pyramid lake, a mile from Lake Mirror. Members of the fishing party first sought Miss Norville, then appealed to forest rangers for assistance.

Temperatures in the mountains were below freezing. Miss Norville was dressed in light summer clothing.

From an irreverent little Canadian girl in pigtails Bea climbed into the top drawer of Burke's Peasage via the world-famous Charlott's Revues. She recrossed the Atlantic to conquer America in Noel Coward's "This Year of Grace," Shaw's "Too True To Be Good," and several other hit comedies.

"AVERAGE AMERICANS"

"Fibber McGee" and "Molly", whose airline antics pretty closely approximate the behavior of the average American, are spending their vacation in much the same manner as the average American ordinarily vacations.

First, Jim and Marion Jordan, who portray the roles of "Fibber" and "Molly," drove up to Canada and spent a couple of weeks in the north woods near Quill, Ontario. Then on they toured to Yellowstone National Park to "oh" and "ah" in typical tourist fashion over the wonders of the scenery there. They will see the country by another route on their drive home.

HAMPDEN AND PITTS

Walter Hampden plays his first "heavy" role on the air when he heads Rudy Valle's guest star lineup on Thursday, August 18. Other features of the Variety Hour to be broadcast over the NBC red network at 7 p. m. are Zasu Pitts, the film star, and John Sebastian, a novelty harmonica player.

Hampden has played several of his famous stage roles, like Cyrano, on the air but this is his first microphone appearance as Sven-gall.

Zasu Pitts will be heard in a one act play specially written for the program. It is a comedy called "Miss Pringle Gets a Ticket" and the author is Keith Fowler who has contributed many pieces to the Valley Hour.

John Sebastian has just returned from Europe where he had a fellowship to study political science. This seems to have very little connection with the harmonica but advance reports are that his arrangements of "St. James' Infirmary Blues" and "Dark Eyes" are entirely different from the usual run of harmonica playing.

E-Z-R-A SHUTS DOWN

Uncle Ezra is going to shut down Station E-Z-R-A, "the powerful little five-watt down in Rosedale" for the hot spell.

The homely fun of Uncle Ezra, Cecelia, Si Skinner, and other Rosedale folks will be missing from the airways, where it has been heard over the NBC-Red network, Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings since 1934, while the entire cast takes a well-earned vacation until this fall.

It will be the first time that Pat Barrett, creator and portrayor of Uncle Ezra, has taken an extended vacation in four years. He will, however, continue to be heard as a feature of the "National Barn Dance" over the NBC-Blue network each Saturday night during his vacation.

Station E-Z-R-A will close down after the broadcast of Friday night, August 12, and expects to be back on the air in the fall "bigger and better than ever."

GAMBLER BILLIONS

SCIENCE SERVICE estimates that the gambling bill in this country is seven billion dollars a year. Half the total goes to small stuff—slot machines, the numbers game, church and club raffles, bingo parties, pinball machines, and similar games of chance. There is also a vast amount of private gambling such as bridge games, dice and small personal bets on every question imaginable.

The strange thing about the huge gambling industry is that it does not waver even during depression. When times are bad people take a chance in the hope they may get something for nothing. When times are good they gamble for the excitement.

The tragedy is that so much of the "take" comes in very small sums—nickels and dimes—from people who cannot afford to spare even so little.

Every city, sooner or later, has a drive against gambling. They are rarely more than temporarily effective, because the human urge to gamble overrides the reformers and the good sense of the non-gamblers.

MILITARY DEMOCRACY

GREAT BRITAIN, which has boasted of its democracy ever since the World War, at last gets around to democratizing its army—an ancient aristocratic stronghold. Changes are sweeping. The way is opened for men to rise from the ranks, whether they have money or not. Those proving their talent will get a completely free military education, including uniform and equipment. Men will be enabled to earn their officers' commissions in service instead of having to go through the usual academy training courses at Sandhurst or Woolwich. Officers' pay will be raised to meet the demand of their position, so that the moneyless officer will be level with the rich one.

This is partly, no doubt, an act of necessity. Unless the British government resorts to the drastic military methods of authoritarian countries, it must make military service more inviting to young men of ability. It shrewdly does so before it is driven by urgent need.

Thus Britain, even in the hands of a conservative government, continues its swing toward democracy when so many nations are swinging in the other direction.

The wisdom of such action is clear. It will remind many that the most effective army Britain ever had was the democratic army of Cromwell's commonwealth.

World At A Glance

Republican politicians are increasingly talking of Thomas E. Dewey as G. O. P. presidential possibility in 1940.

The suggestion, however, is qualified by a conspicuous "if." Two "ifs," in fact.

If Dewey, as district attorney of New York county, succeeds in convicting James J. Hines, prominent Tammanyite, of tampering with New York judges and other officials, in an effort to protect the late "Dutch" Schultz's "policy racket," it is forecast that the then victorious prosecutor almost certainly will be named by the Empire State Republicans as their candidate for the governorship. That is one "if"—if Dewey convicts Hines.

If he convicts Hines and is nominated for the governorship, he will need to be elected in order to rate as presidential material. If he does convict Hines, he is gubernatorially nominated and then is beaten for the Albany state house his defeat will flatten him out presidentially. That is the second "if"—if Dewey is elected governor of New York.

HAS HIS POINTS

Presidentially speaking, Dewey has his candidatorial points geographically.

He is not the type of New York,

EMBARGO BANS ARMORED AUTO

WASHINGTON — How far Mr. Hull's career boys are leaning backward to prevent any aid to Loyalist Spain is indicated by the recent disclosure that they even refused the President of Spain the right to obtain an American car similar to that used by President Roosevelt.

The car is a Chrysler, equipped with thick windshield glass and body containing armor plate capable of withstanding revolver shots, but not rifle bullets. Attorney General Cummings and J. Edgar Hoover have similar cars, but when the Spanish Ambassador some time ago requested the State Department permit the shipment of one to the President of Spain, he got a flat turndown.

Under President Roosevelt's proclamation imposing an arms embargo against Spain, he bars "military armored vehicles", but says nothing about armored passenger cars. However, Joe Green, in charge of Hull's Munition Control Board went one step further. He drafted a curt note informing the Ambassador that the car intended to ward off assassin's bullets from the President of Spain could not be shipped.

Since the Spanish Government had already paid for it, the car is now gathering dust in a New York storehouse.

IN WRONG CORRIGAN

Maybe government officials just naturally lack a sense of humor, but some of them in the Bureau of Air Commerce are still sore about "Wrong-way" Corrigan.

What they are particularly sore at is the fact that they licensed his "crate" when he put in super-sized gas tanks. They should have known, they now admit, that no such tanks were needed for domestic flying.

So in the future they are going to refuse licenses to all planes with super-gas tanks unless they are admittedly for flying across the ocean.

IDAHO PRIMARY

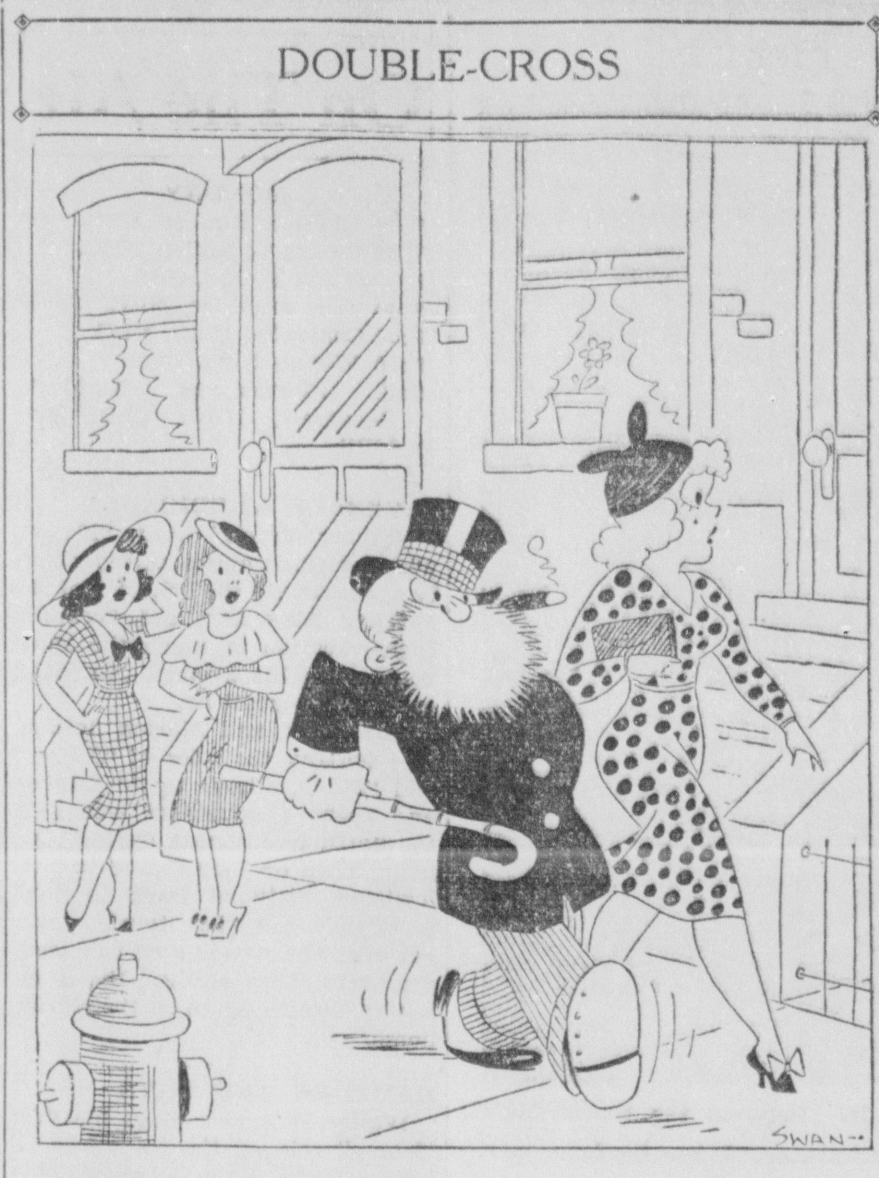

Two things licked Idaho's New Deal Senator Jim Pope:

1. Utility money
 2. Borah votes
- Both factors operated completely sub rosa.

The utility interests poured a barrel of money into Representative D. Worth Clark's campaign. He has consistently supported their side throughout his House career, so they opened their coffers and went to bat for him in a big way. This was particularly true in the last few days of the contest, when utility money made its appearance in big gobs.

The Borah vote for Clark was a more circuitous matter. The veteran Republican Senator took no part in the campaign. In fact, he was seriously ill in Washington during part of it. But he made no secret to friends of his antipathy to Pope and approval of Clark.

Whether Borah actually suggested the strategy that Republicans go into the Democratic primary and vote for Clark has not been definitely established. But that is exactly what Borah's friends did. In a State with less than 80,000 votes, the GOP bloc was enough to turn the scales narrowly for Clark.

"She took him for worse, but he got better."

Possible to Read With Eyes Shut

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

I ALWAYS felt it was an oversight on the part of nature that she did not provide means to allow us to close our ears as we do our eyes. Think of the luxury of closing out all ugly sounds, all the noises of the world. It would certainly promote comfortable sleeping, especially in city hotels, where I have been trying to sleep for the last night or two.

I suppose the strict evolutionist would say that it was a protective device to promote the survival of the fittest—that we must have

Perhaps science would devise some method to overcome shut ears anyhow, as it has to overcome shut eyes. I was startled to find in a medical journal the other day an article on reading with your eyes shut.

This is not one of those hocus-pocus medicine stunts, and does not mean that anyone can read with the eyes shut under normal circumstances. It means the use of the X-rays to stimulate the retina.

Has Practical Uses

Of course, the X-rays penetrate the closed eyelids and throw an image on the retina. A film on which are printed words is passed between the X-ray tube and the closed eyelids, and the letters can

TWO WORLDS

What she saw gave her a shock.

NO MATTER what Mrs. Garwood had told her, Noel just simply could not believe that little Betsy's mind was impaired. It was Noel's firm conviction that if the child could live a normal life, she would be as healthy, both mentally and physically, as any child her age. Noel made a firm resolution that in so far as it was possible she would do everything to make Betsy's life a more normal life.

That night, by dint of much coaxing and persuading, she finally induced Betsy to eat a wholesome supper of milk, toast and fruit. By 8 o'clock the child was asleep.

It had been a long day, and this was the first chance Noel had to get in touch with Laurie. She had been thinking of her all day, wondering just what had happened. Had Jimmy gotten there in time, or had Laurie gone through with her determination to marry the cafe proprietor?

Noel phoned the cafe, to find that Laurie wasn't there. She then called Mrs. Blomson only to find that Laurie wasn't there either. Where was Laurie and what had happened? Noel felt as if she couldn't bear the suspense of not knowing. She went to bed feeling a little sick at heart for it certainly looked as if Laurie had carried out her avowed intention. By now she was probably Pete Colindapas' wife—married to a man she did not love.

With the morning, Noel again faced the problem of trying to persuade Betsy to eat her breakfast. The Japanese servant had brought up a tray containing food suitable only for adults. Noel sent him back for whole milk and cereal. After some delay, it was brought.

Betsy looked at the food with indifference.

"You will eat a little cereal and milk just to please me, won't you, Betsy?" Noel coaxed.

"I did that last night," Betsy reminded.

"But this is breakfast, and you must do it again," Noel explained patiently.

But Betsy shook her head in distaste.

Noel gave a minute to thinking. Then she said, "Look here, Betsy, we're going to be friends, aren't we?"

Betsy looked up in surprise, a little flicker of interest coming into her pale face. "Friends can play together and have good times. Could we?"

"Of course, dear. And friends, remember, always do things to please each other. So you must eat your cereal to please me."

"I will try," Betsy assented.

After that, Noel believed she was making progress. Betsy managed most of the cereal. Then she leaned tiredly against her chair and closed her eyes.

Noel studied her pale little face for a few moments. To force this child to study, to discipline her as her mother had instructed, seemed to Noel to be an almost inhuman thing to do.

When Betsy's tired blue eyes were open again, Noel said, "See, darling, we're going to play a game with these oranges. I'm giving you half and I'm taking half."

"You're not going to make me do sums?" The look of relief on the child's face made Noel's heart ache.

"No, indeed," she reassured her. "We're going to play store. It's a nice, quiet game."

They spent an hour with the

Ruth Stout Becomes Bride of Clyde Warden

Ceremony Read In Cambridge Church

At an informal wedding, Saturday, Miss Ruth Stout, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stout of 143 Town street, became the bride of Mr. Clyde R. Warden of Cambridge. The single ring service was read at 2:30 o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal church of Cambridge.

Mrs. Arnet Gardner, a recent bride and intimate friend of Miss Stout, served as matron of honor. Mr. Claire Warden attended his brother as best man.

For her wedding, Miss Stout chose an afternoon gown of light blue sheer trimmed in appliques of a darker shade. With this she wore accessories of dark blue and a shoulder corsage of roses.

A new beret is of almond-green taupe felt and has a high, draped crown of black broadtail. A forward-tilted tiny hat is of black hatter's plush, and its high crown is made still higher by a soaring white bird. The trimming is burgundy grosgrain.

Egg Recipes For Tasty Snacks

WHEN IT is necessary to serve snacks often, the cook needs a pretty extensive repertoire of egg dishes. With this thought in mind, we offer some excellent recipes that are good for a bite or for luncheon or supper.

Omelettes and souffles are always welcome and are particularly good when catering to an invalid or a convalescent. For a delicate, creamy omelette, break six eggs into a bowl. Beat lightly, and add one-half teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon pepper and one-half pint white sauce (cold). Melt three tablespoons of butter and cook eggs in ordinary omelette fashion. Serve on a hot dish with some white sauce poured round.

Success in souffles depends largely upon the freshness and quality of the eggs, and the whites being whisked to a stiff froth. And the eggs should be beaten in an absolutely dry, very cold bowl with utensils that are entirely free from any moisture. A pinch of salt will aid the beating, and many a good cook does the whisking of an egg whites by an open window. And it is imperative that the souffles be served immediately after they are cooked in the little soufflé cases or dish in which they have been heated, or they will go flat. An oven souffle must be absolutely hot.

Tasty Egg Dish

Six eggs, one teaspoon anchovy paste, one tablespoon butter, one teaspoon minced parsley and paprika are the ingredients for an exceptionally tasty egg dish. Beat the egg yolks until light. Add minced parsley and anchovy paste. Fold in stiffly-beaten whites and blend. Melt butter in heavy iron pan and pour in mixture. Cook until bottom is brown, then place in 350 F. oven and brown top. Serve at once sprinkled with paprika.

Egg and cheese toast is a nice tidbit, easily and quickly prepared. It calls for three slightly-beaten eggs, one-quarter cup milk, one-quarter teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, tablespoon butter, one-half cup grated cheese, four slices toast and tomato catsup. Combine eggs, salt, pepper and milk together. Melt butter and pour in egg mixture, stirring constantly until eggs are cooked. Spread the toast with tomato catsup, heap each piece with scrambled eggs and cover with grated cheese. Place in boiler to melt and brown the cheese. Serve at once.

Clam omelet is a New England favorite along the sea coast. A popular recipe calls for one cup hard clams, six eggs, separated; two-thirds cup cream, heaping tablespoon butter, one teaspoon salt and paprika. After clams have been cleaned, put them through a food chopper and saute in the melted butter. Add the salt and paprika to the egg yolks and beat until light, then add the cream and chopped clams. Mix thoroughly. Fold in the stiffly-beaten egg whites and pour mixture into well-buttered omelet pan or skillet, and bake in moderate oven for about 25 minutes, or until brown.

done in great plastrons, and half sleeves of fur are liked. Beige tones with brown fur and all shades of violet with black or brown fur will be highlighted. A suit of violet wool in a velvety weave has a huge collar of bluish-gray fox and big flaps of the fur on the pockets.

Next time you burn your hand on a hot saucepan or iron, don't neglect it just because the right treatment isn't handy. Scrape a little flesh from the inside of a potato, put it on the burn and tie a clean rag or bandage round it.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

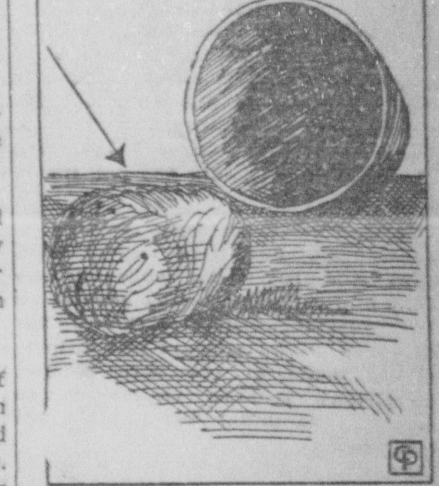

First, one must obtain the proper kind of bulbs. Bulbs used for indoor bloom must be stronger than bulbs for outdoor planting. Most bulb dealers specify certain bulbs as suitable for forcing indoors.

Second, the bulbs must be potted early to insure a good root system before the tops begin to grow. The Garden-Graph shows a ball or root mass of the kind that makes it possible to force bulbs with success.

As soon as bulbs are potted they should be stored in a dark, cool place such as a vegetable cellar. If cellar storage is not available, dig a trench 2½ feet deep in the Small dead spots in the lawn at this time of the year are quite likely to be due to chinch bugs. If these insects can be found in or about the dead spots, treat the spots and adjacent areas with finely ground tobacco dust in dry weather, or spray with a dicotene sulfate or a pyrethrum extract preparation.

Derringer Wins; Moore Loses for Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Aug. 15—(UP)—Youngsters like Johnny Vander Meer flash and fade on the baseball horizon while big Paul Derringer goes quietly along his way adding to a record that demands that he be classed as one of the greatest right-handers to join a National league club within the past decade.

Derringer, now pitching his sixth season for the Cincinnati Reds, hung up his 15th triumph of the year yesterday when he gained a 5 to 4 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals in the first game of a double-header. The Cards came back to grab the nightcap 8 to 1.

This season for the first time since he joined Cincinnati in 1933, Derringer is pitching for a first division club. Yet his record throughout his tenure with the Reds sparkles.

Over a five year stretch when Cincinnati finished in the cellar three times, sixth once and fifth once, Derringer hung up a total of 73 victories.

With a four place club for the current campaign the husky right-hander has been among the major league's outstanding hurlers all season and now owns more victories than any other pitcher in the National circuit.

Derringer gave the Cards 12 hits yesterday, but kept them scattered until the seventh when St. Louis pushed across a pair of counters. The other markers came in the second and third rounds. The Reds made all their counters off Bob Weiland, who worked the first six innings. Max Macon finished the contest and gave up but two hits.

Harry Craft and Don Lang were the youngsters who supplied the punch of the Cincinnati offense. Craft secured three hits and Lang two. They drove in a pair of runs. In the second game rookie Lloyd (Whitey) Moore received his first defeat of the year. The fire-balling right-hander was hammered for five hits and issued three walks in the five innings he worked. Then "Jumbo Jim" Weaver and Gene Schott came on in the sixth to be pounded for four runs and enable the Cards to clinch the decision.

Clyde Shoun, lanky southpaw, worked for St. Louis and limited the Reds to six hits. No Cincinnati player secured more than one safety.

The Reds hopped to Pittsburgh immediately after the game for an abbreviated two game series with the pace-setting Pirates. Lee Grissom was slated to work for Cincinnati with John Tobin opposing him on the mound.

YESTERDAY'S HEROES—

Russ Bauers and Mace Brown, Pittsburgh pitchers, who collaborated on a 2 to 0 victory over the Chicago Cubs, ending a three game Pirate losing streak.

FERRELL LUCKY; TAKES VANCE'S JOB WITH YANKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 15—(UP)—Wes Ferrell, whose major league career appeared ended when he was released by the Washington Senators and waived out of the American league last week, was a member of the richest team in baseball with an excellent chance of cutting in on the world series swag.

Ferrell, eccentric righthander, signed up with the New York Yankees yesterday to replace young Joe Vance, who was stricken with appendicitis. The Yanks lead the league by 7 1/2 games and are heavy favorites to win their third straight pennant. If Ferrell sticks he probably will be voted a half-share of world series money.

Vance, who had been recalled from Kansas City when Joe Beggs was sent back to Newark, was operated on for appendicitis Saturday night, and Manager Joe McCarthy wired Ferrell in Washington to "come at once."

McCarthy did not say when he expected to use him, but it was believed Wes would get his first call in one of the games against his old Washington mates Wednesday. If he performs effectively, McCarthy plans to use him as a regular starter.

Ferrell, as well known for his tantrums as for his pitching feats, has won 13 and lost eight this year.

U. S. TRACK AND FIELD OUTFIT BEATS GERMANS

BERLIN, Aug. 15—(UP)—The 40-man United States track and field team that scored a 122-92 victory over Germany split up into smaller squads today to continue their exhibition tours through Europe.

The team, winner of six out of 10 events on Saturday's opening program, rounded out their triumph by winning eight of the 10 events staged yesterday before a crowd of 85,000 in Olympic stadium.

Ray Malott of Stanford lowered the German record for the 400-meter run. He was timed in 46.3 seconds, handing Germany's Harbig his first defeat in two years. Biggest upset of the meet was the triumph of Francis Ryan of Columbia over Germany's Olympic champion Woelke in the shotput. Ryan heaved the 16-pound cannonball 51 ft. 10 to 32 in.

Other American victories were: 40-meter hurdles, Jack Patterson of Rice, 53.3; 200-meter dash, Clyde Jeffrey, Riverside, Calif., Junior College, 21.5; high jump, Mel Walker, Ohio State, 6 ft. 6 1/2 in.; 3,000-meter steeplechase, Forrest Efw, Oklahoma A. and M., 9:33.6; 5,000-meter run, Gregory Rice, Notre Dame, 14:05.6; and the U. S. 1600-meter relay team, 3:13.4.

Germany won the broadjump when Leichun leaped 24 ft. 11 3/4 in., and the javelin when 11 45-64 in.

GRID COACHES SELECT BUCKS TO WIN TITLE

Bo McMillin, Harry Kipke Say Ohio State To Be Best In Big Ten

FRANCIS JOINS BEARS

52 Squad Members Called By Cardinal Mentor

CHICAGO, Aug. 15—(UP)—Four noted football coaches today rated Dartmouth, Pittsburgh, Louisiana State, Ohio State and Southern California the nation's outstanding gridiron prospects for 1938.

Raymond (Ducky) Pond of Yale handicapped the East and picked Pitt and Dartmouth; Frank Thomas, coach of Alabama's Rose Bowl team, nominated Louisiana State in the South; Bo McMillin of Indiana rated Ohio State the Big Ten favorite; Elmer Layden of Notre Dame picked Southern California to regain its old power on the Pacific coast.

McMillin, Pond and Layden were in Chicago coaching the college all-stars for their battle Aug. 31 against Washington's Redskins. Thomas dropped in on the practice.

McMillin and another all-star assistant, Harry Kipke who wound up his career at Michigan last Fall, both picked Ohio State as a standout team in the Big Ten.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15—(UP)—Sam Francis, former Nebraska fullback, joined the Chicago Bears after a salary dispute today as the western division champions of the National professional football league opened training at Delafield, Wis. Forty-nine squad members were present.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15—(UP)—Coach Milan Creighton of the Chicago Cardinals, National Professional Football league entry, called out 52 squad members today for their first drill of the season at Morgan Park Military academy. Twenty veterans and 32 rookies were on hand.

MUDHENS MOVE TOWARD PLACE IN A. A. PLAYOFF

COLUMBUS, Aug. 15—(UP)—The Toledo Mudhens have not been in the first division anytime this season, but the odds today were short against the club not grabbing a place in the American Association play-off.

Toledo is still in sixth place in the tight pennant chase, but the Mudhens moved to within 1 1/2 games of the first division yesterday when they grabbed both ends of a double-header from the league-leading St. Paul Saints.

Cletus (Boots) Poffenberger, chunky little right-hander who was sent to Toledo by Detroit as a disciplinary measure, won his fourth straight contest in the first game of the twin bill by an 8 to 5 count. Vic Frasier, the winner of 11 straight contests for the Saints, was the losing hurler.

Roy Cullenbine, youthful outfielder, clinched the victory for Poffenberger when he hit a home run with the bases filled in the seventh inning.

In the nightcap Toledo was the victor 7 to 4. The seventh place Columbus Red Birds put a crimp in the play-off chances of Minneapolis by beating the Millers twice, 13 to 7 and 4 to 2.

A two hit game by "Buck" Marrow gave Milwaukee a 4 to 1 victory over Louisville in the second game of a double-header after the Colonels had beaten the sterling Whitlow Wyatt 7 to 3 in the opener.

Indianapolis downed Kansas City 5 to 1 and then played to a 3 to 3 tie in a five inning second game that was called because of the 6 o'clock Sunday law.

DELAY TO BOOST ATTENDANCE AT TITLE CONTEST

NEW YORK, Aug. 15—(UP)—Those raindrops that washed out the Ambers - Armstrong lightweight title fight Wednesday were "pennies from heaven" for Mike Jacobs, the promoter claimed today.

He predicted a "sure fire sell out" for the bout, postponed a week and transferred from the Polo grounds to Madison Square garden.

"It can't miss 10,000 at the gates, with the receipts just about reaching the $150,000 mark," he said. "Last Wednesday's rain was the best thing that could have happened to this fight. The customers are really proving it at the

Terry's Giants In Drive For League Leadership

CHICAGO, Aug. 15—(UP)—About this time every year, Bill Terry rubs his magic lamp and starts the New York Giants on their way to another National league pennant.

Terry rubbed it just in time this Summer. The Giants were playing just about the poorest baseball in the majors until whatever happens to Giant teams in August began to happen. Now they are only four and one-half games back of the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates.

It was only the last place Philadelphia Phillies which New York defeated twice yesterday, but victories like that are just as important as any other.

While Pittsburgh was shaking off its three game losing streak by defeating the Chicago Cubs, 2 to 0, the Giants picked up a half game on the leaders by poling out 34 1/2 hits in their 11 to 0 and 14 to 6 victories over the Phillies.

The odd part of it was that the National league champions didn't look great polishing off the Phils. Neither starting pitchers—Hal Schumacher and Bill Lohrman—was able to finish and in the second game, the infield made three errors.

Russ Bauers Strong Pittsburgh, after dropping two straight to the Cubs, salvaged the third game on six hit pitching by Russ Bauers, former Chicago sandlotter, and good old Mace Brown who came in with the bases loaded in the ninth and proved again—he's the best relief pitcher in the league.

Charley Root pitched a home run ball to Johnny Rizzo in the second inning and was charged with the defeat which dropped the Cubs six and one-half games out of first place.

Fred Fitzsimmons allowed Boston only three hits as Brooklyn won the first half of a double-header, 2 to 0, but the Bees got Lou Fette plenty of runs in the second and he won his eighth game of the year, 10 to 4.

Cincinnati and St. Louis also split. Paul Derringer won his 15th game as the Reds won the opener, 5 to 4, and Clyde Shoun, a left-hander, gave up only six hits as the Cards won the second, 8 to 1.

In the American league, the New York Yankees picked up half a game, increasing their lead over Cleveland to seven and one-half games, by rolling over Philadelphia, 4 to 3, and 9 to 2. Lou Gehrig hit a homer in each game.

Cleveland, on home runs by Ken Keltner and Earl Averill, did what they could about staying near the Yanks by whipping Monte Stratton and the Chicago White Sox, 6 to 4.

Harry Kelley, Washington veteran, turned in his second straight masterpiece by holding Boston to five hits as the Senators won, 7 to 1. Kelley drove in three runs himself.

Tebbetts Singles

Catcher George Tebbetts of Detroit wrecked Buck Newsom's chance for a no-hitter with a single to center field in the seventh inning of the first game between the Tigers and St. Louis Browns. Buck won 7 to 1, a three base error by Beau Bel producing the one run. Darkness halted the second game at 3 to 3 after nine full innings.

OILS AND FEEDS MEET IN FIRST SOFTBALL TILT

Circleville Oils and Eshelman Feeds tangled in the first game of the week in the city recreation ball league Monday evening. The Oil outfit has lost two games while the Feeds have been downed only once.

The leading Blue Ribbon dairy team takes on Purina Feeds, Tuesday, and swings into action again against the Circleville Oils on Friday. Wednesday's game brings Cains and Glitt's food market teams together and Thursday the Bronzville Jollies go against the Fenton Cleaners, first ball titlists.

Several hard-fought contests featured last week's games, large crowds attending all the sessions.

Ambers' training routine has undergone a "face-lifting." The Herkimer Italian has changed into a savage mauler instead of the clever jumping jack he has been.

members of the government coalition parties and they would insist on negotiating with the government alone.

"We are not going to allow negotiations to be delayed by political die hards," said a spokesman. "This is a question between the minority and the government."

This meant a disagreement over procedure and it was forecast that there would be a clash, perhaps a serious one, in a conference Wednesday between government representatives and the Sudeten party, with Runciman sitting in as adviser.

Authoritative quarters predicted that negotiations might be broken off during the week—just as the German maneuvers were well under way. There seemed a feeling also that the government would prefer any break to come now, while Runciman was here and could see just what the situation was. He is regarded by many as a sort of guarantor, in Great Britain's name, of Central European peace.

Meeting Awaited

Great interest was attached to a meeting tomorrow of the national defense council. It is an extraordinary meeting, and the expectation is that some important decisions will be taken as regards Czechoslovakia's military situation.

Some army circles even took the view that Germany in its maneuvers was merely answering Czechoslovakia's partial mobilization of May 21. These same quarters called the German maneuvers inopportune. They pointed out that Czechoslovakia had even sailed down its regular Summer maneuvers to regimental and battalion drill, and a high army authority disclosed that the government had put aside a plan to extend compulsory army service from two years to three.

Meanwhile, along other trouble fronts:

SPAIN—Rebel armies pounded to within 15 miles of the Almaden mercury mines despite government claims that their reinforced lines had slowed down the enemy. Insurgent dispatches also reported Loyalists had been driven from strategic points near Gandesa, but Gen. Jose Miaja declared that the rebel offensive against Valencia had been broken up by Loyalist counter-attacks in other sectors. Rebel planes bombing Valencia killed a British wireless operator on the British ship Hilfern and wounded a British observer on another ship.

CHINA—Tension mounted between Japanese militarists and foreign authorities in Shanghai after American, British and French troops patrolling the international settlement had a series of clashes with Japanese seeking to arrest Chinese demonstrators. Fears were expressed that the Japanese might try to occupy the settlement. Chinese advised said the Japanese offensive toward Hankow had again been stalled and might be delayed until September.

baby and summonses were issued to Sheriff Radcliff calling the Schwalbachs to court. The sheriff, Saturday, took the summonses to Whisler for service, but found no one at home at the Schwalbach home. After a while Mr. Schwalbach drove home and, after receiving his summons, told the sheriff that his wife and the baby were in Gallipolis but that he expected them home almost anytime. The sheriff told him to bring his wife and the baby to Circleville immediately after their return home. The summons for Mrs. Schwalbach was left at the home.

The sheriff and Deputy Miller Fissell had just returned to Circleville after answering a call to New Holland when Neal came to the jail and said that the Schwalbachs were parked in front of the courthouse with the little boy. The sheriff went to his office to obtain some replevin papers calling for restoration of the baby to his parents, when the Schwalbachs and Neals started to fight.

Police Save Neal

Circleville police were attracted by the screams of the women and hurried to the scene. Mrs. Schwalbach had Mrs. Neal on the running board of the car beating her. Mr. Neal had tried to take the little boy from the automobile, but was attacked by Schwalbach. The Whisler man had the Cincinnati down and was choking him when the police arrived. Police said Neal might have been killed had they not arrived when they did. Police were forced to choke Schwalbach to make him break his grip on Neal.

The baby was restored to the Neals after the fight. Neal filed assault charges against the Schwalbachs.

The Neals have another little boy.

MINISTER USES GOD POWER IN FORM OF SHORT RAYS

The way the mind is used largely determines your success or failure. W. B. Neal, M. D., founder of the method of using short rays from God Power. This new teaching believes that it is possible to have health and more abundant life when the law of God is understood. stamp out Chinese-Japanese terrorism, particularly involving the Japanese "special service branch" of propagandists. There were indications that the Japanese army was planning a firmer stand in support of the propagandists—armed plainclothesmen who have been filtered through the British and American defense sectors to threaten Chinese and distribute literature denouncing the Chinese national government.

The volunteer corps of the settlement was demobilized, but all foreign troops were given strict order to shoot to kill anyone failing to submit to a search, and to defend unoccupied areas "to the last man." They were the most drastic orders given the troops since Chinese forces threatened to invade the settlement a year ago last July.

The decision to patrol unoccupied areas was believed to have been taken because of the inability of police to prevent further incursions. Heavy patrols of foreign troops were concentrated on all sides of the settlement.

The troops turned back many armed Japanese propagandists and detained temporarily many others who were later released to the Japanese army.
